Merrill. The town without a boom.

To Go With Them.
"What makes Jones so economical these days?"
"Some one gave him a pair of goggles, and now he's saving up for an automobile."—Lippincott's Magazine.

A Hope.
The umpire loudly shouts, "Play ball!"
The players step in view.
The crowd in answer to the call exclaims, "We hope they do!"
—Washington Star.

An Old Friend.
"Good yars, eh?" chuckled the story teller when he finished his anecdote.
"Yes," agreed the patient listener wearily, "I always did like that one!"
—Bohemian Magazine.

Degrees of Sense.
There's "fine sense" and "coarse sense,"
Each good in its way.
But the man who has "horse sense" knows when to say "rough."
—Philadelphia Press.

The One Exception.
Little Willie—Say, pa, is fighting prohibited by law in all the states?
Pa—I believe so, my son, except in the matrimonial state.—Chicago News.

Happiness and Trouble.
Though riches don't bring happiness,
For trouble we ain't ap'lin'.
It takes the flash of solid cash
To keep the pot a-righ'.
—Atlanta Constitution.

Old verse Devised.
There was a crooked man who rode a crooked mile,
Spoke on a crooked stump with a crooked sort of smile,
But the people wouldn't believe that he had a crooked nature,
So they sent another crook to a crooked legislature.
—Detroit Tribune.

Next in Line.
Mrs. Hayson (with letter)—Hiram says that the barn dance is all the rage in the city at present.
Mr. Hayson—An' I suppose them stuck up city snobs is a-callin' it the garage hop, hey?—Puck.

Silent Success.
Don't worry if you claim no praise,
Thing not of the applause you've missed.
In these somewhat peculiar days
You're lucky if you are not teased.
—Atlanta Constitution.

The Retort Direct.
"Haven't you forgotten something, sir?" asked the waiter, with outstretched palm.
"No," replied the patron; "it isn't my memory, but my disposition, that's at fault."—Judge.

An Old Timer.
Wrinkles, wrinkles, little start
I wonder off how old you are.
The makeup art has more age stung.
For you were a star when I was young.
—Baltimore American.

A man who cannot get along with his stenographer should marry her and get a divorce.

Reginald—Nothing, by Jove—not a thing, 'pon m' word! Puck.

Darwin Reversed.
He was a man among men.
But, alas,
"Tis sad, but none the less true,
He met a woman—
A young and beautiful woman—
And she made a monkey of him.
—Chicago News.

Painfully Shy.
"Mr. Robinjay is a very timid young man."
"Timid! I should say so. He's afraid to begin a letter 'Dear Miss Smith' because it's leap year."—Washington Star.

Didn't Stay Light.
Ella—Hello, bleached her hair, but the original color is coming back again.
Stella—Yes, it seems to be a case of the light that failed.—New York Press.

Different Now.
As a lightning scenic artist I once thought that I was in it.
But my wife now has me faded—
She makes scenes in half a minute.
—Houston Post.

Marked Down.
Mr. Harddrive—It's my opinion that the influence of bargain sales is immoral, if not positively irreligious.
Mrs. Harddrive—Why, dear, even the Bible speaks approvingly of the ninety and nine!—Puck.

Wise Precaution.
"My dear professor, why have you a hole in the front of your umbrella?"
"Because I like to know whether it is raining or not."—Shutok.

What's in a Name?
He's light as any summer breeze.
Two hundred pounds she'll weigh.
His given name is Hercules.
Her given name is Fay.
—Philadelphia Press.

The Wise Woman's Way.
